

THE WRANGELL SENTINEL

VOL. XVIII. NO. 41

WRANGELL, ALASKA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1919

PRICE TEN CENTS

Cable News

HELENA, ARK.—Clinton Lee and J. A. Tappen of Helena, and seven negroes at Elaine are dead as a result of clashes between them and a posse searching for persons who, from ambush, killed W. D. Adkins, railroad special agent.

HELENA, ARK.—Five hundred federal troops, armed with rifles and machine guns are on their way to Helena.

HELENA, ARK.—Clans from all over Phillips and surrounding counties are sending armed white men to quell disorder at Helena.

FLAINE, ARK.—Governor Brough and Colonel Isaac Jenks, commanding the troops here were fired upon but neither was hit. O. L. Johnson (white) of Helena was shot three times and fatally wounded. Dr. D. A. Johnson, a negro druggist and his three brothers were all killed. O. R. Lilly, a member of the city council of Helena was killed. Two corporals (white) were seriously wounded.

WASHINGTON—A flat refusal to deal with union labor was made to the Senate labor committee today by Gary, head of the United States steel corporation. In the face of repeated questioning, the industrial leader stood without budging on his contention that to deal with union leaders would result in closed shop, a thing which he declared would be hostile to the country and prevent industrial prosperity. The charges that the corporation mistreated its employees are "without a vestige of truth," Gary declared.

WASHINGTON—Gary continued that if the unions control the industries in the United States "it means decay and dropping production; it means that this country cannot keep up with the world; it means a condition I fear, in which England is today."

WASHINGTON—Boris Bekhmentff, Russian ambassador, informed the State department today that General Rozanoff, a superior Russian commander in Siberia had apologized to Major General Graves, commanding American forces in Siberia, for the incident at Iman, Siberia, September fifth, involving the arrest by Cossacks of an American officer and an enlisted man, and flogging of the latter.

WASHINGTON—Senators today are beginning to hunt an answer to the question of what will happen if the peace treaty is rejected either by a direct Senate vote or by Wilson's refusal to accept it with reservations, which in his opinion would destroy it.

KANSAS CITY—Three Kansas, Missouri bank robbers possessing $80,000 worth of Liberty bonds were arrested Wednesday. They were endeavoring to raise cash to purchase railway tickets for the Pacific coast.

WASHINGTON—After a restless night the President fell asleep during the forenoon and today arose late. Grayson, at one this afternoon, issued statement for the President that he had had a restless night and consequently is feeling somewhat jaded today. The Senate leaders agreed today to begin voting at two tomorrow on amendments to the peace treaty.

CINCINNATI—The World Series opened at two yesterday afternoon.

CHICAGO—The White Sox and the Cincinnati Reds are contending for the championship. With a sunshiny day great crowds are out. Batteries: Cincinnati—Ruther, p., Wingo, c.; Chicago—Cicotte, p., Schalk, c.

REDLAND FIELD—Cincinnati won nine to one.

LONDON—The railway strike this morning brought the spectacle of a duke driving a motor lorry with an earl in the chauffeur's seat in the motor heading a convoy of fish from Billingsgate.

NOGALES, ARIZ.—The bodies of Lieutenants Waterhouse and Connolly, the missing army aviators, have been found. They were buried in the beach of the bay of Los Angeles, about 300 miles south of San Diego.

OMSK—General Graves, commander of American forces in Siberia, in retaliation for alleged scurrilous articles published in a Vladivostok newspaper and hostile acts of Cossack chiefs in the far east has held up a shipment of 14,000 rifles which recently arrived at Vladivostok from the United States consigned to the All-Russian government at Omsk.

HILO, HAWAII—The lava stream from the eruption of Mauna Loa which began Friday has reached sea 30 miles distant. The flow traversed the Kona district known for its coffee and sugar plantations.

OMAHA—Mrs. W. G. Wisener, white, was criminally assaulted by a negro at her home. The Wisener home is in the heart of Omaha's black belt, which is under the control of military authorities, under Major General Wood.

CINCINNATI—Reds won 4 to 2. Batteries: Salee and Raridin; Chicago—Williams and Schalk.

WASHINGTON—The Senate today passed the House bill appropriating seventeen million dollars additional for the completion of the Alaskan railway. The measure now goes to the President.

ARDMORE, OKLA.—Six thousand men and women hissed and hooted Senator Reed of Missouri off the stage of the convention hall here last night when he attempted to make a speech in opposition to the League of Nations. Senator Reed was unable to even start his address. The crowd started its demonstration while the mayor was making the introductory speech.

Mrs. L. E. Barron and daughter Lillian, who have been making their home in Ketchikan for some time, expect to leave tonight or tomorrow morning on the steamship Princess Mary, to make their home in the States. They will visit in Seattle for a time with Mrs. Barron's sister, after which they will go to McCammon, Idaho, where Mr. Barron owns a large ranch.—Chronicle.

FOR SALE—Launch "Pep," 7 fms. net, 38' 7" x 10' beam, extra shaft and fittings, complete outfit suitable for trawler, halibut, purse seining or buyers boat. 20 h. p., cost $4,000, will sell for $2,000. Must be sold to meet obligations; price holds for 10 days. Also range, sewing machine, one tool chest, some tools, tent 14x16-10 oz. Sundry household goods. C. C. Keesling, old hospital upstairs.

JUNEAU UNION ISSUES BULLETIN

Alaska Labor Union No. 4 of Juneau has issued the following bulletin:

The Empire refuses to print the following resolutions passed by the Alaska Labor Union No. 4:

The Empire is not publishing the truth in connection with the Alaska-Juneau strike.

No strikers have returned to work and no strikers intend to return to work until their demands are met.

Read the following resolution over carefully, we are not out to take over the reins of government but we are out to a man to suppress crime and vice in Juneau since the officials are unable to cope with the situation.

The abatement law has not been enforced; liquor is made in Juneau and vicinity and sold in Juneau.

Maques have walked the streets of Juneau for two years, are arrogant and repulsive, city police walk in and out of gambling houses and do not arrest the violators.

Mrs. Thomas, the Native woman who fell into the bay as stated by the Empire, was made intoxicated in a blind pig on Front street and was directed by the man who made her so to go across the old dock in front of I. Goldstein's store; she fell through and into the bay. Her cries for help were heard by the man who made her intoxicated.

He went into his blind pig and closed the door behind him. Willing helpers from the Labor Hall and the street helped her out and took her in an auto to the General Hospital and called for medical aid. The Empire did not attempt to tell the truth about the case. Remember the recent death of Ed. Fortier in a similar manner and the man who was recently rescued from drowning, by the ferry crew, and following are the resolutions passed by the Alaska Labor Union No. 4 for the social and moral welfare of the citizens of Gastineau channel:

Anyone engaged in the illegal sale or manufacture of intoxicating liquors, are hereby notified to stop such sale and manufacture and live up to the Bone Dry Law of Alaska.

We have passed resolutions to stop all violations of the Alaska Bone Dry Law, and have elected a committee who are determined to carry out these resolutions, with the aid of the FEDERAL AUTHORITIES. The committee in charge have sufficient evidence on the moonshiners and bootleggers of Juneau, and any further attempt to violate the Dry Law will not be tolerated.

Resolutions were also passed for the suppression of all gambling in Juneau, this pertains to all games without exception, and it will be the duty of the committee to see that this law is also enforced.

Resolutions were also passed that those immoral profligates in the town, whose only means of support are the earnings of fallen women, should seek a more legal source of support and this organization will see that they do it.

ALASKA LABOR UNION NO. 4. Committee:

B. R. Sawyer, Secretary, James L. Fogarty, A. H. Franzen, L. Dillabaugh.

Sawyer With Others Before Grand Jury

JUNEAU, Sept. 25—R. B. Sawyer, James Fogarty, A. H. Franzen and L. Dillabaugh, who signed and distributed a circular last week in which they declared that they were going to enforce the dry law, and alleged that they were in possession of evidence of the existence of all sorts of crime in Juneau, appeared as witnesses before the grand jury which convened today after a recess, in obedience to summons issued for their appearance by the United States District Court.

The circular these men caused to be distributed recited that publication of it had been refused by The Empire. After it was presented to The Empire and before it was circulated it was changed to read that the committee proposed to act "with the aid of the federal authorities."—Empire.

STRIKE SITUATION

The Douglas Island News makes the following comment regarding the situation:

The way the strike that is said to be on at the Alaska Juneau mine strikes us, is that it was a poorly-managed, ill-timed effort of a few agitators to start something.

There may be men employed in the Alaska Juneau who are working for low wages. On the other hand, there are men in the works who are making good money. Why those few who are not getting what they call a living wage did not roll up their war bags and go where they could get better wages is the mystery. Any man who is worth anything at all as a miner need not work for small wages these days when good jobs at high wages are plentiful.

Why should these few men who are dissatisfied with working conditions at the mine jeopardize the jobs of the great majority of the workmen there by declaring a strike? Why not let some men make money rather than throw them all out of work at this place?

The Alaska Juneau is not what could be called a producing mine. It is at the experimental stage yet and has been struggling under a severe handicap to try and get into the dividend-paying class so that the promises made to the many stockholders might be fulfilled.

The statement has been made that if the mine cannot pay a certain arbitrary wage set by certain people that it could shut down. Those people hardly realize what it would mean for the Alaska Juneau to shut down. For one thing it would blast the hopes of hundreds of small stockholders who have their savings tied up in stock in the company. It would throw a number of good men out of good-paying jobs and give gold mining in the Juneau district of Alaska a setback that it would not recover from for many years to come.

From indications it would seem that this so-called strike originated in the Alaska Juneau boarding house one morning at the breakfast table. This is the same boarding house where board and room can be obtained for $32 per month. We might not think so much about it if the agitation had not started there. Think of these fellows filling up on "ham and —" such as is served there for such a small price, starting a strike to tell some of the married men whether or not they shall work.

We have never been able to learn if a vote of the workmen was taken to determine whether or not they wished to strike. No demands were made of the company until after the strike was called. That may be playing the game, but it is not according to Hoyle.

We repeat, that if those who called this alleged strike loved their fellow workmen as they claim to do, instead of working for the low wage they claim they were getting, they would have rolled up their blankets and left for some of the places where the high wages are that they talk about. They should have gone away without saying a word and let those men alone who are making good money on account of their abilities as workmen.

Father Kern went to Ketchikan Sunday night on the Jefferson.

Of Local Interest

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Boone were southbound passengers on the Senator Thursday evening.

Mrs. F. S. Barnes and children left on the Senator for Seattle en route to their home in Portland.

Misses Armstrong and Allen-der entertained a few friends at dinner on Sunday evening.

William Lewis, Sr., made a business trip to Seattle on the Admiral Evans.

Have your watch repaired at George Cowan's, in the Uhler Block.

For the shave and haircut of satisfaction go to Ed Grigwire's shop, opposite drug store.

Miss O'Connor and Miss Crosno moved into the Hofstad residence on Saturday, where they are comfortably situated for the winter.

Phillip Kelly left on the Jefferson Sunday night for Tacoma where he will re-enter Cushman School.

Mrs. G. K. Oakes, who has been spending the summer in Wrangell, left Thursday on the Senator for Tacoma.

Following are the southbound passengers from Wrangell on the Admiral Evans: Herb Russell, Fred Choquette, Armas Mackela, Fred Shirley, F. H. Wright, Wm. Lewis.

Florence Blake was a passenger on the Jefferson Sunday night. She is en route to Port Townsend where she is going to receive medical attention for her eyes.

The Ripley Fish company shipped 18 boxes of fish on the Jefferson Sunday night. At the same time the Columbia Northern shipped three boxes.

At the request of a number of people who are unable to attend on Wednesday evening, the night of community singing has been changed to Friday, at 8 o'clock.

Miss Anne O'Connor entertained friends off the Jefferson at a chafing-dish supper Sunday evening while the boat was in port. She was assisted by Miss June Elliott.

Andy Lillian, William Fletcher and Otto Vieweg returned yesterday from a three days' duck hunt on the Stikine flats. Each member of the party brought down about 25 ducks.

Fred Choquette left Tuesday morning on the Evans for the south. He expects to take up the study of the violin at Chemsaw.

The steamship Senator arrived from the north Thursday afternoon. This was a special trip of the Senator made to relieve the congestion of travel caused by the exodus of the cannery crews.

One point about Salvation Army work overseas has been overlooked, which was the extension of money credit to soldiers. Out of hundreds of thousands of francs thus used, the Army will break even. The doughboy paid. —Ford's International Weekly.

The basket social and dance scheduled to be given at the Rink next Saturday evening promises a good time to everybody. The best of music will be furnished by the Native Band and by a stringed orchestra. The proceeds of the evening will be used in fitting up the Labor Hall.

MEMORANDUM FROM GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

As there seem to be misunderstandings regarding the laws affecting migratory birds, the following information is given to the public:

The migratory bird treaty act passed by Congress and approved July 3d, 1918 is the only act now in effect governing the killing of migratory birds. So much of the act as affects Alaska is as follows: Migratory birds include the following: wild ducks, geese, swans, cranes, curlews, snipes and yellow legs.

Migratory birds may be killed only with a gun, not larger than a number 10 gauge, and fired from the shoulder. They may be taken during the open season from the land or water with a blind or floating device with the aid of a dog and the use of decoys. They can not be taken with the aid of, or from a power boat, sail boat or any floating device towed by power boat or sail boat.

The open season in Alaska is from September 1st to December 15th, both dates inclusive.

The bag limit in any one day during the open season is as follows: Twenty-five (25) ducks in the aggregate of all kinds; eight (8) geese in the aggregate of all kinds.

Migratory birds may be transported in the Territory during the open season as provided for in the regulations.

Migratory birds cannot be offered for sale, cannot be sold, and it is unlawful to offer to purchase or purchase such birds.

Copies of the migratory bird treaty act and regulations may be secured from the Governor's office upon request.

Cannerymen to Try Fox Farm Upon Islands

The Hoonah Fox company have filed articles of incorporation with the Clerk of the District Court. The incorporators are H. J. Alexander, William Dodge and C. J. Alexander. The Alexanders are well known cannery men connected with the Hoonah Packing company and William Dodge is a resident of Hoonah where the head office of the company will be located.

The company expects to raise foxes for their furs and will acquire islands for that purpose.

The company is capitalized at $20,000, divided into 20,000 shares at a par value of $1 each.

Mrs. McCormack Entertains

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. McCormack entertained a number of friends at a delightful dinner party last Friday evening in honor of the birthday of Mr. A. Jakobitz. The affair was a big surprise to the guest of honor, and it proved to be such a pleasant one that Mr. Jakobitz intends to have more birthdays in the future than he has had in the past.

The dinner guests included: Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Johnson and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Upshaw, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McLaughlin, Father Kern, A. Jakobitz, Miss Loretta McDonald, Messrs. Leo and Harry McCormack.

Senator Borah refers to the President of the United States as a "dodger," a "cheater," and a "subservient tool" of England. Senator Norris says he spends public revenue like a "drunken sailor." When dignified (?) Senators talk like this it is a wonder that adle-pated irresponsibles jabber about the blessings of Bolshevism?—Exchange.

LITTLEST SISTER

By AGNES G. BROGAN.

The child looked gratefully into the face of the young woman bending above her. A Madonna-like face it was with tender, brooding eyes, yet eyes which a sudden sunny smile could transform into dancing merriment.

"It is lovely to have you here," said the child, "before you came, it was so lonely. That's what it means, I guess, to be the littlest sister, 'specially when you've had a different mother from the rest. They were all quite grown up you know, when my mother came, and they didn't need her. P'raps that's why she went away to Heaven. Daddy did not like to be bothered."

"The biggest sister had said 'Mercy me! the child's too old to have a nurse and going to school, will not need a governess, whatever shall we do with her?' And I told her to advertise for a—a sort of sister. Some one to fix my clothes and read to me, and stay in at night when everyone else was away. Oh! you don't know how dreadful it is to be the littlest sister."

The young woman nodded. "I do know, darling," she replied, "I was just like that." There was a sudden catch in the sweet voice. "They closed the doors," she went on dreamily, "and went their different ways, and I—was left alone."

"For all of the evening?" asked the child.

"Forever," answered the girl.

"And they did not come back?"

The young woman sadly shook her head. "There were so many things in the world to keep them busy," she said.

The child leaned forward eagerly.

"Then, whatever did you do?"

Into the somber eyes danced the sunny smile. "Why I came here," the girl replied. "Your advertisement seemed just written for me, to make a 'little sister' happy was so exactly the thing I wanted to do."

"You might have been a secretary," the child suggested shrewdly, "and have made more money." Again the companion smiled.

"I was very stupid," she said, "about making money. Perhaps I had forgotten all that I knew, in caring for my invalid father."

"Well," the child answered cheerfully, "that was a good thing for me. I'm so much in the way, they all tell me that, and they never did want me at all. Now, the biggest sister is going to be married and the other is going abroad, too, the one who calls me 'that kid,' and—"

The young woman turned about. "Not," she asked breathlessly, "the tall brother with the deep true eyes, not, the brother with the kind voice which makes you feel that somebody cares—he is not going away?"

The child regarded her companion perplexedly, then shook her head. "Oh, no," she said, "that is the oldest brother who has always been painting pictures somewhere far away. He came back not long ago, and yesterday he came up here to my big room. He was so very grave and so very cross, that I was afraid. 'So,' he said, 'you are the little one? Where, is she?' I s'pose he meant the biggest sister, and I told him and he went away."

The girl caught the child in her arms. "He asked like that?" she questioned eagerly, "quickly, anxiously, like that?"

Bewildered the child nodded, then raised a startled face. "What was that noise, back there among the shadows?" she asked.

"You are fanciful," the girl replied. "A log broke in the fire. Let me hold you close and I will tell a story."

"Once upon a time a great artist came back to his native land to see his own, and perhaps to wed a wondrous lady. The hearts of his sisters were set upon this choice, for great was her influence in the world of letters, and very great was her wealth. To marry her, would be to bring to the artist all those things for which he had struggled so, the sisters told a humble maid of their dwelling. This maid had but dared to raise her eyes to the man, as he passed her upon the stairs, or—in the garden. Had but dared, meeting him upon the road, to ride home at his side in the great automobile. Yet the sisters seemed to know of the dream she had dreamed alone in her own little room with the stars for company. And so the maiden found that she must go away because the kindness of his eyes grew so akin to love,—because the gentleness of his voice thrilled to tenderness—"

"Didn't she care—for—him?" the child asked drowsily.

"It was because she cared so very much—"

answered the girl, "that she determined to go away—that he might marry the wonderful lady, who could bring to him victory." A tear splashed down upon the now sleeping eyes of the child, while from the shadows came a man's figure.

"So—dearest," said the man's low and jubilant voice, "that is your reason, that is why you have made me play at hide and seek finding you like a boy, that is how you would sacrifice yourself. Well here," his arms closed about her, "here is my victory now and forever."

Blinkingly the littlest sister opened her eyes. "My—brother?" she whispered unbelievably. "And, your sister," answered the deep kind voice, "and we are all going to live in the happiest home together."

Subject of sermon: Watchful Working. Is there such a thing as working without watching? Are there any men who have eyes and yet are blind workers? What about the blind who are led by the "Reds?"

Thomas Carlisle once said "England is composed of millions of people, mostly fools." Was this because he found so many blind workers? Watchful working is therefore more or less rare, and is a theme worth considering. Come.

God Gave You Health. Thank Him For It. Go to Church.

OME people never think of God until a loved one is ill or a great trouble besets them. Then they seek the SOLACE OF RELIGION. A clergyman is called in, and prayers are said at the bedside for the loved one's recovery. God is MERCIFUL, and oftentimes these prayers are answered, and the loved one recovers.

IT IS NOT FAIR TO GOD, HOWEVER, TO ASK HIM TO REMEMBER YOU WHEN YOU HAVE FORGOTTEN HIM. WHEN EVERYTHING IS GOING ALONG SMOOTHLY AND THE WORLD LOOKS BRIGHT SOME MEN FORGET THERE IS A GOD. THEY NEVER GO TO CHURCH. WHILE THEY WILL RESENT THE CHARGE THAT THEY WOULD OPENLY OFFEND GOD, THEY OFFEND HIM DEEPLY BY NOT GOING TO CHURCH. THE SUCCESSFUL MAN SHOULD GO TO CHURCH TO THANK GOD FOR HIS WORLDLY GIFTS. THE SUPREME BEING GAVE HIM ALL HE HAS—LIFE, HEALTH, HAPPINESS—AND HE SHOULD THANK HIM FOR THEM.

Thanks to the GO TO CHURCH movement, there has been a religious awakening over the land. RELIGION NEVER WAS DEAD. All that it required was a stimulus, and that stimulus was provided by the GO TO CHURCH campaign. It should not be necessary to urge men to GO TO CHURCH. There isn't an argument that can be advanced by any man who believes in God in favor of staying away from church. Take away the churches and you will have a condition bordering on anarchy.

The man who GOES TO CHURCH is prepared to MEET ANY CRISIS, moral, physical or financial. His faith in a Supreme Being sustains him in the most severe trials.

JOIN THE GO TO CHURCH THROG NEXT SUNDAY.

MICKIE SAYS

THE MAN WHO DOESN'T BELIEVE IN ADVERTISING—GENERALLY FALLS FOR AN AD ON THE ELEPHANT WHEN A CIRCUS COMES TOWN

IN THEN HE'S DISAPPOINTED BECAUSE BUSINESS DON'T PICK UP!

The Advertised Article

is one in which the merchant himself has implicit faith—else he will not advertise it. You are safe in patronizing the merchants whose ads appear in this paper because their goods are up to date and not shop worn. : : :

HOME-MADE PHILOSOPHY

In a little while disease will be cured with food, and the doctors will become cooks and bakers.

Ninety-nine per cent of the men who never marry would be ashamed to let the world know the secret side of their life.

There is more genuine satisfaction in independent thinking than in all the mental claims that blind men to superstition.

Work your brain if you would make it strong. A handaged limb and a silent brain must soon become a useless burden to the owner.

The natural man is a worker—not alone for wealth, but to lift up his end of the load high enough to let others let go and rest their weary arms.

No odds what your religious faith may be, your work must be a work for humanity. God's work on earth is all done by hand, so far as man is concerned.

Wishing for the good old times is the weakness of the man who sighs for mother's pumpkin pies. He's one of the fellows who can't advance with the crowd.

Skepticism is always sweeping its door yard to prevent the religious people from finding any dirt there, and the religious people keep on polishing up their faith and work to keep ahead.

AROUND THE WORLD

Glasgow has a dwelling house shortage.

South Dakota railroad is employing woman section hands.

An American spy recently made a tour of Germany without detection.

Texas is booming a project for an international irrigation dam across the Rio Grande.

Figures compiled before the war show that Austria has a greater percentage of woman workers than any other country.

ABOUT THE OCEAN

The sea is continually becoming saltier.

A knot is a speed of one sea mile per hour.

Ships "wear" flags; they do not "fly" them.

The sea, in cold climates, diminishes the cold.

Sound travels in a most irregular way through sea fog.

A sea mile is 6,080 feet—that is, 800 feet longer than a land mile.

There are two tides in a lunar day of 24 hours and 40 minutes.

Unlike the land, the temperature of the sea does not fall at night.

A tide is a wave of the whole ocean, caused by the action of the moon.

Sea vapor is not salt, the latter being left behind.

Sea water is an excellent tonic for the hair, especially after illness.

Below a depth of 200 fathoms (400 yards) there is no plant life in the sea.

JUST THOUGHTS

Grumbling is a lot of comfort to some men.

Some society women have better clothes than manners.

Teachers of penmanship naturally do a flourishing business.

Some men would rather tell agreeable lies than disagreeable truths.

Competition works both ways. It is either the life or death of trade.

An appetite for liquor beats an umbrella for keeping men dry.

Don't forget that your neighbors can smell onions farther than roast turkey.

BY THE OFFICE OWL

A great man is the handwork of many small men.

It takes a cross female to give it to a man straight.

One of the laws of gravity is not to laugh at your own jokes.

Even the ambitious oarsman draws the line at a lightning stroke.

Money gets tight occasionally, but you rarely see it lying in the gutter.

If a man is willing to fight for the truth, it isn't safe to call him a liar.

The gossip never makes a long story short enough to leave out the scandal.

Canned and Bottled Goods

Let your food be the best. It doesn't pay to buy inferior quality. Good food insures good health, while uncertain quality is always a poor investment, no matter how low the price.

Our canned and bottled food products have the backing of reliable, well known producers. That is your protection. The prices are no higher than the excellent quality warrants and the assurance of goodness is an added value well worth demanding.

Give us a trial.

C. M. Coulter took out a duck-shooting party to North Arm on Saturday morning. They returned Monday evening with full bags and report a fair trip. Others in the party were: Lloyd Dalgity, Harry Coulter, Charles West, George Barlow and R. Rudd.

The publisher of the Sentinel spent the past week on the West Coast. Owing to having reached home such a short time before going to press we are unable to publish an account of our trip in this week's issue. The past season has been a record breaker on the West Coast, and the outlook for that district was never more flattering.

Ed Grigwire's dandruff treatment is the best on the market. Try it and be convinced.

Emma Goldman has been deported back to Russia. Poor old Russia. There are a whole lot of other people whose passage should be booked back to the countries from which they came. They don't live in New York, either.—News.

The Heckman dock at Ketchikan is being razed. A new dock and warehouse will be built on the site of the old.

A. Bs. Elect Officers

At the meeting of the Arctic Brotherhood last night the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Thomas Dalgity, Arctic Chief.
Colonel Mason, Vice Arctic chief.

M. O. Johnson, Arctic Chaplain.

L. M. Churchill, Arctic Recorder.

Samuel Cunningham, Arctic Keeper of the Nuggets.

FOR SALE—Men's sleeveless sweaters made to order. Mrs. George Northrope. 10-2

The Pennsylvania coal miner demands a 60 per cent raise in wages, a six-hour day, a closed shop and a two-year agreement. The consumer's demands are simpler. All he asks for is a mild winter.—New York World.

In the future the mail destined for Iditarod will be billed through Cordovr insterd of Seward. It will go by way of Cordovr, Chitina Fairbanks and Ruby. The route is 250 miles longer than the former but it is said that the mail can be hauled cheaper is what the post-office department is after in Alaska.

FOUND ON AN OLD CUFF

A lot of people will always believe it was hunkfluenza.

Some people "marry for love" and others live happily ever after.

There will be about nine million miles of second-hand barbed wire placed on the market soon.

The greatest pessimist in the world is the one who wears a belt and suspenders at the same time.

If the war has done nothing else it seems to have knocked housework into a cocked hat.

No matter who is sultan of Turkey, he never seems to be able to add much tone to the job.

When we have our final settlement with the English we should insist that they take back their sparrows.

It is a good plan to name the baby Archie, and then when he grows up and loses his hair you can call him Archibald.

Looks as though a lot of the forty-five-year-old draft boys will not be able to call themselves veterans of anything but the influenza epidemic.

SOMETHING ELSE AGAIN

Create examples which by their frightfulness will be a warning to the whole country.—Wilhelm II.

Stripping your neighbors is only to take away from them the means of doing you a mischief.—Frederick the Great.

The more unmerciful the conduct of war the more merciful in reality, for the war is thereby sooner ended.—Hindenburg.

The innocent must suffer with the guilty. All that is as nothing compared with the life of a single German soldier.—General Von Bissing.

Above all, you must inflict on the inhabitants of invaded towns the maximum of suffering. You must leave the people through whom you march nothing but their eyes to weep with.—Bismarck.

International law (German version) is by no means opposed to the exploitation of the crimes of third parties (assassination, incendiarism, robbery and the like) to the prejudice of the enemy.—German War Book.

TRADE BRIEFS

Catalogues describing rings for incandescent mantles have been asked for by a consular officer of a foreign country.

Lead pencils, copying pencils and general stationery are needed in Italy. Catalogues and samples have been asked for.

There is a market in South Africa for toys, kitchen ware and women's clothing.

Switzerland has authorized the expenditure of $3,242,000 for the purchase of 20 electric locomotives to be used on its federal railways.

Pennsylvania prospectors have found oil in Colombia at a depth of 1,500 feet. The well should produce from 1,000 to 2,000 barrels a day.

Large olive oil reservoirs are to be established in Norway from which to distribute the oil to the sardine packers.

Spitzbergen coal is said to be inexhaustible and of good quality.

FROM CERVANTES

I was so free with him as not to mince the matter.—Don Quixote—The Author's Preface.

They can expect nothing but their labor for their pains.—Don Quixote.

As ill luck would have it.—Don Quixote.

The brave man carves out his fortune, and every man is the son of his own works.—Don Quixote.

Which I have earned with the sweat of my brows.—Don Quixote.

Can we ever have too much of a good thing?—Don Quixote.

And had a face like a blessing.—Don Quixote.

It is a true saying that a man must eat a peck of salt with his friend before he knows him.—Don Quixote.

MUSINGS

Old men should be young and not simply try to be.

Self-interest or favoritism in a legislator is a sin against the people.

The only true way to make money is to do some good while you are at it.

It is a mystery why some men want to make themselves so conspicuous.

Some men lift their hats before the memorial arch, but most men don't.

Glenora Passenger List

The Glenora arrived from the West Coast at 2 o'clock yesterday morning with the following passengers:

From Sulzer—Ensign W. J. Carruthers.

From Craig—Jason McKinney, J. W. Pritchett.

From Warmchuck—Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Nellington and children.

From Tokeen—Mr. and Mrs. Schelp.

From Karheen—Jose Uprealle and wife.

The launch, Sarabil, in charge of L. L. Wyatt left Point Warde Wednesday morning with Mr. and Mrs. Sam. Wyatt and two children for Wrangell, but before the entrance to the back channel was reached they had the misfortune to strike a rock, throwing the boat on beam ends. Fortunately the Frank H. Madden was on her way to Anan Creek with a seine boat in tow and as a haze hung over the water could not see far, but the captain, hearing several shots in succession, rushed in their direction and found the Sarabil on the rocks and sinking fast. The Madden succeeded in pulling her off and took her to Anan Creek where she was beached. Those on board the Sarabil feel the deepest gratitude for the timely aid and skillful work of Captain Glascock and crew. Without their assistance the Sarabil's story would have been entirely different.

Red Cross Notice

The regular monthly meeting of the executive committee of Wrangell chapter A. R. C. will be held Tuesday evening, Oct. 7 at the town hall at 8 o'clock.

Josephine H. Mason,
Secretary.

The Kasaan cannery closed September 18 with what is said at Ketchikan to be a record pack in Alaska for a three-line cannery. It put up 102,000 cases, and furnished a lot of fresh fish for other canneries.

Are the pioneer workingmen and other pioneers of Juneau going to let a pair of chechako agitators come here and run them and the community?—Empire.

Notice

Channel Island in the Back Channel, about 15 miles from Wrangell has been stocked as a fox ranch. Hunters and trappers are notified not to trespass upon same.
